

I strongly support retaining the requirement for Morse code testing for the amateur radio service.